¿Por qué tengo que trabajar durante el verano!?

You are being asked to do Summer Work to familiarize you with the expectations and format of the AP Spanish exam while maintaining your Spanish over the summer. The work you will be doing will keep your listening, speaking, reading and writing skills active and encourage you to develop good habits for improving these skills in Spanish. This work will also help you discover and put into use technology as a resource for connecting to real-life Spanish. Please don’t be overwhelmed! I promise I have put a lot of thought into these assignments and chose them to help you best prepare for class next year, not because I want to ruin your summer! If you spread the work out I think you will find it is quite manageable and hopefully even fun.

General Directions
Please do all activities completely and to the best of your ability. I will be using this work to assess your skills upon your return in the summer. You will also receive a grade for this work, so do good work to get off to a good start. You should hand write your work very neatly so I can give you some constructive feedback.

The Assignments

1. Speaking: You will prepare to do a speaking activity in our language lab upon your return in August (Hablando en español #1). Follow the instructions up to the recording part: that you will do when you get back.

2. Listening and writing: You will do two listening activities followed by two writing exercises (Escuchando y escribiendo en español #1 y #2). In the first assignment you will watch or listen to a Spanish program and then respond to the broadcast by writing eight to ten sentences. Be sure to state your own opinion and draw comparisons to your own experiences. In the second assignment, you will listen to some of my favorite songs in Spanish. Pick one that you feel strongly about (either good or bad) and follow the writing prompt.

3. Writing: You will do two writing activities (Escribiendo en español #1 y #2). Read the attached assignment and write to reinforce advanced grammar structures. Respond to the prompt in eight to ten sentences.

4. Reading: You will need access to the internet to do an online reading toward the end of the summer. Use one of the suggested websites to find an article (in Spanish) about what you think was the most important event of the summer. Be prepared to defend your choice when you return.

5. Grammar: You will do a series of online grammar practices to review and sharpen the basics. Don’t worry about getting a perfect score so much as self-assessing which grammar points you still need to work on.
Tips for Success on the AP Spanish Exam

Here is how one teacher describes the exam: “...a 3-4 hour skill-based exam testing your abilities and proficiency in Spanish. It is not a knowledge-based exam like most other AP exams. You are “on stage” in Spanish for over 3 hours integrating all four of your skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing.”

The first tip is to know what you are up against by familiarizing yourself with the AP Spanish Language Exam format on the next page of this packet. The exam requires critical, integrated expression in Spanish which will require you to focus for 3+ hours.

In this time you will read, write, listen and record a simulated conversation and an improvised two-minute formal oral presentation. In the presentation you will read a short selection, then you will listen to a different spoken selection. You are given 2 minutes to organize your thoughts about these two selections and then you speak for 2 minutes integrating the two selections into your recorded monologue. You must show analysis, synthesis and evaluation of the selections to receive a 4 or 5.

I believe you will be prepared by next May to do well and my goal is for all of you to receive a 3 or better on the exam. It will require self-discipline and dedication on your part as this class will be treated and taught as if it were a college course.

Some other things you can do in the summer and throughout the year:

1. Pick up a Spanish language newspaper or magazine when you see one. You can often find People en Español or Selecciones (the Spanish version of Reader’s Digest). Also, notice Spanish on packaging and signs in the stores you frequent. See if you can guess what they mean or look them up when you get home. Notice the Spanish that is already all around you!
2. Visit and read online Spanish language newspapers such as bbc Mundo.com, elpais.com, 20minutos.es or clarin.com. Read about things that interest you.
3. Watch Univisión or other Spanish programming on TV. News programs like “Primer Impacto” or “Noticiero” are especially useful. Also, watch DVDs in Spanish or actual Spanish movies. Don’t try to understand every word at first. You will get better.
4. Listen to Spanish music on the internet or listen to podcasts in Spanish. There are numerous podcasts for learning and some designed for entertainment. NotesinSpanish.com is a good source for entertainment and discussion of current topics.
5. Seek out “live” experiences with Spanish in your community. Keep your eyes open for cultural events or local service organizations that appeal to Spanish speakers and get involved. You may also have co-workers that speak Spanish. Take advantage of them and practice!

Lectura en español. (Reading in Spanish)

Find an online newspaper article, in Spanish that you think describes the most significant event of the summer. Read the article thoroughly, then plan the argument you will make to the class to convince them that this was, indeed, the most significant event of the summer. You must have at least three, logical and coherent arguments, and you must cite the article to support your arguments. Please don't pick an article/event that you can't thoughtfully support with evidence from your article.

See how well you remember the following grammar points. For each activity record your score in the Web-code column next to the code. This is not “for a grade,” but rather, to see which tenses or concepts still may be causing you some trouble.

Go to www.phschool.com and enter the web-code for the following grammar points.
